EXPENSE & BUSINESS TRAVEL POLICY

Finance & Operations | Policy ID: FIN-EXP-001 | Version 1.0 | Effective date: 1 January 2026

Purpose. This fictional policy defines reasonable business expenses, approval requirements, reimbursement limits and the claim process for employees travelling or spending on behalf of Intrix Solutions.

1. Scope and core rules

This policy applies to full-time employees undertaking approved business travel or incurring authorised business expenses. Spend must be necessary, reasonable, supported by an itemised receipt where available, and approved by the appropriate manager. Personal expenses are not reimbursable.

Employees should use company-booked travel options where available and choose economical, safe arrangements. Any exception to a stated limit must be approved in writing by the department head before the expense is incurred, except in a genuine emergency.

2. Domestic travel

| Expense | Guideline / limit | Approval and evidence |
|---|---|---|
| Air travel | Economy class; book in advance where practical. | Manager approval before booking; itinerary and ticket. |
| Rail travel | AC 2-tier or a lower suitable class. | Manager approval; ticket or receipt. |
| Local transport | Reasonable taxi, metro, bus or app-based travel. | Trip receipt or digital record; explain route if unclear. |
| Hotel | Up to ■4,500 per night, excluding taxes. | Manager approval; itemised hotel invoice. |

Travel dates and destination must be included in the approval request. Employees should not book premium upgrades, minibar items, personal entertainment or accommodation for companions using company funds.

3. Meals during business travel

The domestic meal allowance is up to ■1,200 per employee per travel day, inclusive of breakfast, lunch, dinner and non-alcoholic beverages. This is a reimbursement ceiling, not an automatic daily payment. Claims must reflect actual reasonable spend and be supported by itemised receipts.

If a meal is already included in a hotel booking, event registration or paid for by a host, the employee must not claim it again. Alcohol is not reimbursable.

4. Client entertainment

A client meal or modest business-hosting expense may be claimed only when there is a clear business purpose and the attendees are identified. The guideline limit is ■2,500 per person, inclusive of taxes and service charges. Department-head approval is required before the event. Alcohol, gifts of cash and personal entertainment are not reimbursable.

5. Other eligible and ineligible expenses

| Generally eligible (with approval) | Not reimbursable |
|---|---|
| Business-required printing or courier charges | Personal shopping, clothing or toiletries |
| Work-related data or connectivity charges during travel | Traffic fines, penalties or speeding charges |
| Necessary visa fees for approved travel | Alcohol, minibar or in-room movies |
| Pre-approved conference or event registration | Expenses for family members or personal guests |
| Reasonable parking and tolls for a business journey | Duplicate claims or expenses already paid by another party |

6. How to submit an expense claim

Submit the claim through the expense portal within 10 calendar days after completing the trip or incurring the expense. Each line item should include the date, amount, currency, business purpose, category and receipt. For a missing receipt, explain why it is unavailable; Finance may reject unsupported claims.

Claims should be submitted in the same currency shown on the receipt. For foreign-currency expenses, attach the card statement or conversion record showing the amount charged in Indian rupees, where available.

7. Review, approval and reimbursement

The employee's manager checks the business purpose and confirms that the spend was authorised. Finance checks receipts, calculations, policy limits and duplicate submissions. A claim may be returned for clarification or rejected if it is incomplete, late, personal or outside policy.

Approved claims are normally processed in the next scheduled reimbursement cycle. Processing time depends on complete documentation and the finance payment calendar; this policy does not promise a fixed payment date.

8. Changes, cancellations and emergencies

Employees should cancel unused bookings promptly and return any refundable amount to the company. If travel plans change, obtain manager approval for material additional costs. In an emergency, prioritise personal safety, notify the manager as soon as practical, and document the reason for any unavoidable additional expense.

9. Business travel and leave

Approved business travel during scheduled working days is work time and does not require the employee to use leave. Personal extensions or holiday days attached to a business trip require prior leave approval under the Leave & Time-Off Policy. Only the business portion of a mixed-purpose trip is reimbursable; additional personal costs must be paid by the employee.

10. Responsibilities and policy exceptions

Employees must submit accurate claims and retain receipts until reimbursement is complete. Managers must approve spend before it is incurred wherever required. Finance owns reimbursement checks and may request supporting information. Policy exceptions require written department-head approval and must be attached to the claim.

Document control: Owner — Finance & Operations | Review cycle — annually | Version 1.0. This is a fictional sample policy for a technical case study, not a real reimbursement commitment.